Winter 2017

CARRIER SEKANI FAMILY SERVICES

Treatment Aftercare Support

The most common time for people with addictions to relapse is when they return back to their communities from a treatment program. We recently held a planning session to discuss ways that we can better support people returning to their communities from treatment - to better equip them for success.

We are pleased to announce that the NNADAP workers will be working with support from our Addictions Liaison Worker and Addictions Recovery program to head up a new project aimed at ensuring after care supports are in place. A toolkit will be developed which includes things such as food gift cards, journaling exercises, peer support numbers, lists of local resources, scheduled activities, and online support resources. In addition, the NNADAP team will organize potluck celebrations to welcome people back to the community once they have completed treatment. We look forward to working with the NNADAP workers to provide this much-needed service soon!

Pharmaceutical Services Now Available For CSFS Health Transfer Nations

We are very pleased to announce that CSFS Health Transfer Nations will have pharmaceutical services in the very near future! CSFS has successfully negotiated funding to provide culturally safe medication management to community members based on the complexity of their medications.

So far we have hired Shadi Al-Hawari, a licensed pharmacist and pharmacy owner to work with our community members in Yekooche and Takla. Shadi owns the Lakeside Pharmacy in Fort Saint Iames and has worked hard to provide high quality services in the area. The Nature RX team includes pharmacy technician Beckie Chang and Pharmacist Joyce Lam. We are pleased to welcome Shadi and his staff to our Primary Care Team!

Back by 'popular demand', we are happy to host the 5th annual Winter Wellness Games beginning February 3rd and ending February 5th 2017.

Events such as hockey and the 'Carrier Iceman' will take place in communities from Saik'uz to Burns Lake. We are planning this outdoor event to be fun for people of all ages and interests.

A health fair will be included in this year's festivities and will provide interactive exhibits and practioners including traditional healers, and wellness checks with the Primary Care Teams. Workshops will be provided by our Maternal Child Health, Early Childhood Development, and Mental Wellness teams along with screenings to for mental, physical, spiritual and emotional well-

By focusing on various aspects of well-being during the weekend, we plan to provide a holistic approach to health and wellness that encompasses the body, spirit, and mind.

This event provides an opportunity for the various services at CSFS work together in a shared vision of integrated care in the promotion of wellness. We are continuing to build the event schedule. Keep updated on our events by following us on Facebook or checking into our events calendar on our website!

12 Days of Christmas & Hampers Paying it forward!

We would like to thank everyone who joined in our online fun with the 12 Days of Christmas Facebook contest. ### How Far We Have Come New Year's Reflections - Looking Back

As we start on a new year, it's a good time to time to stop, reflect and reenergize for the year ahead. Our founders saw that an integrated and culturally specific service delivery approach was needed to address the wellness needs of our people. Our founding members including Ray Prince, Sophie Thomas, Betty Patrick, Celena John, Murphy George, and Winnie Marcellais, held a strong vision for a brighter future.

Twenty-seven years later our founders may not have imagined that the organization would have grown from a staff of 3 to almost 200 and would have a full complement of holistic wellness services. Would they have imagined that we would have our own child welfare, prevention and support programs to ensure our children and families are supported and safe? Would they have projected that we would have our own Doctors, nurses, counsellors, early childhood programs on staff, along with the supporting infrastructure to keep it all going?

One of greatest keys to our success has been our ability to provide integrated services across sectors with a strong infrastructure to ensure quality and accountability. This Infrastructure has been built through sound strategic planning in adherence to the initial vision of our founders. Our organizational infrastructure includes accounting, research, quality assurance, communications, human resources, and information & technology departments, all built on the most promising practices. Through our strong infrastructure and clear vision we are able to meet a high level of standards, while ensuring that programs remain accountable to our member Nations.

The competency we have built within the organization, along with our strategic partnerships and strong infrastructure ensures quality services can be delivered which meet the holistic wellness needs of our citizens. And as for our founders? We are sure they would expect no less.

First Nations Health Benefits – Travel Policies

Connecting Northern Patients to Medical Services

Patient travel services are provided to First Nations members registered as Status First Nations. The program assists BC First Nation clients, by supplying supplementary funds for travel to medically required health services that cannot be obtained on the reserve or in the community of residence. Assistance can be offered in the form of mileage, accommodations, and meals at set rates. In order to determine eligibility for medical transportation, the FNHB Clerk requires the following:

- Confirmation of the appointment on physician's letterhead, noting the date, time and location of the appointment. If an escort is required the letter needs to outline this along with the medical need for the escort.
- If the travel requested is not to the closest service provider, please have the physician include a letter explaining why you are being referred outside of your immediate region.

- For all appointments, please provide five days notice when travelling inside of your region and ten days notice for travel outside of your region.

The First Nations Health Benefits team works hard to ensure that patients can access health care. All appointment information can be faxed to 250-567-5745 or emailed to FNHB@csfs.org.

Child Welfare Equity Advocacy for First Nations

The actions required to remedy the discrimination referred to in the Canadian Human Rights Tribunal (CHRT) Ruling concerning First Nation children and family services has still not been fully undertaken by the Canadian Government. CSFS Child and Family Services Executive Director Mary Teegee has been appointed to the National Advisory Council as a technical representative for BC. An additional political table comprised of Chiefs and Leadership will also be appointed. Mary will be working with Cindy Blackstock to provide input on changes made to funding formulas to ensure that Children in the Care of Indigenous and Northern Affairs Canada (INAC) have access to the same services and funding as children who are funded under the Ministry of Children and Family Development (MCFD) provincial policies. Progress on this important work will be reported on our website and social media.
